

Federal Tax Conference

The Law School's Eighth Annual Federal Tax Conference took place during the last week of October. Attendance at the three-day meeting numbered more than three hundred lawyers, accountants, and business executives concerned with tax matters. Members of the Conference were drawn from all over the United States. Again this year, plans for the Conference were made by a joint committee of Chicago lawyers and accountants and members of the Faculty. The Planning Committee for the Eighth Annual Conference consisted of:
